

Australian Indigenous Creators' Scholarship

Meet our 2014 Scholarship recipients...

Tori-Jay Mordey from Queensland will buy multimedia equipment. Tori is a young artist and illustrator who has worked previously with Magabala on the picture book Bakir and Bi.

Scholarship recipient Sam Stream pictured with Magabala Books board member Julie Cobb (left) and Philanthropy Manager Sharon Griffiths.

FOUR indigenous writers and artists from across Australia have been chosen to receive grants from Magabala Books' Indigenous Scholarship programme for 2014.

Reggie Sultan from Darwin will use the funding to attend an illustrator's workshop in Sydney.

attend a workshop in Perth and buy art materials.

Magabala Books' Indigenous Creators Scholarships are entirely funded through private donations. To find out more about our successful scholars or to find out how you can contribute to this important programme, visit our website...

www.magabala.com

Maureen Nampijimpa O'Keefe an author and artist from Alice Springs will receive mentoring and travel assistance.

Samuel Stream a Broome based artist and illustrator originally from Marble Bar, will use his scholarship to

Pictured: bottom left Maureen Nampijimpa O'Keefe, top left Tori-Jay Mordey, centre Reggie Sultan.